U.S. Space Experts Grilled Soviet Spaceman Floated In Sun Around Earth

MOSCOW (AP)—When you go orbiting around the earth, says Yuri A. Gagarin, you float above your chair in the space ship. The sun blazes "tens of times brighter than here on earth."

The earth's sunny face is separated from the black void by a band of delicate blue color.

On the descent into the earth's atmosphere "one's legs and arms feel as before during weightlessness," and "I am no longer hovering over the chair."

The 27-year-old pilot gave this account to the Soviet news agency Tass somewhere in the Soviet interior Thursday as Premier Khrushchev prepared a tremendous welcome for him Friday in this excited capital. Salutes in the astronaut's honor will roar out all over the Soviet Union.

No Western correspondent has seen Gagarin.

Tass did not say how he stood up under the stresses of acceleration at blastoff. Dogs shot into space were flattened to the floor and showed great alarm.

Gagarin said he came smoothly through the next two stages—the strange sensation of weightlessness and the return of gravity on the descent, Tass reported.

In fact, he said he found it easier to do everything when the tug of gravitation ceased on the second stage of his flight into an orbit that took him around the earth in 89 minutes, Tass said.

"This is quite natural," he told Tass. "One's legs, arms, weigh nothing. Objects float in the cabin. Neither did I myself sit in the chair as I did before that, but hung in midair. While in the state of weightlessness, I ate and drank and everything occurred just as it does here on earth."

"I even worked in that condition, wrote, jotting down my observations. My handwriting did not change although the hand does not weigh anything. Only I had to hold the notebook. Otherwise, it would float away. I maintained communications over different channels and tapped the telegraph key."

The state of weightlessness arises when the outward thrust of a speeding space vehicle strikes a balance with the earth's gravitational pull. That balance of forces also keeps the vehicle in orbit.

Didn't See Moon

Gagarin, an air force man, never before had been more than 10 miles above the earth, Tass said but then in a five-ton space ship he was whizzing around the earth at 17,000 miles an hour in an orbit that carried him 188 miles away from the earth.

"I did not see the moon," Tass quoted him. "The sun in outer space is tens of times brighter than here on earth. The stars are visible very well. They are bright and distinct. The entire picture of the firmament is much more contrasty than when seen from the earth."

Solons Critical Of Russian 'Win'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Both-ered and bewildered congressmen put America's top space officials on the grill Thursday over the latest and most dazzling Soviet space orbit feat.

Taking over the largest hearing room available, House Space Committee members one after another quizzed the top men of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Out of a welter of suggestions, criticisms and wistful maybe-next-time remarks came these ideas:

Rep. Victor L. Anfuoso, D-N.Y.—"I want to see this country mobilized to a wartime basis, because we are at war. I want to see schedules cut in half."

Rep. David S. King, D-Utah—The United States should push big solid-fuel space boosters to do a quicker and better job than liquid-fuel rockets. "There are no prizes for second place—we all know who Lindbergh was but who in this room remembers who was the second man to fly across the Atlantic?"

Ticker Parade?

Rep. James G. Fulton, R-Pa.—Yuri A. Gagarin, the Soviet globe-girder, is a hero of the human race. "Let's be broad-minded about this. Why don't we give him a ticker tape parade in New York? He's a very brave man."

Doing their best to answer the drumfire of questions were James Webb, newly installed NASA director, and Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, deputy director who has been with NASA since its inception.

The most clearest answers seemed to be these:

Dryden said: "The race was lost . . . before the space agency was founded." The Soviet Union began its major effort in 1954, he said, and NASA was not set up until 1958. "There is some question, sir, that you can make up four years in two years."

Webb: "The bottleneck, if that is what you are searching for, is at Cape Canaveral, and that is on a three-shift basis."

This was in reply to questions on why the Huntsville, Ala., space rocket center is not operating on an around-the-clock basis. Dryden said, "Huntsville does not need three shifts for its part in the Mercury (man-in-space) program."

Time and again, committee members—Republican and Democratic—asked if the space program had enough money.

Dryden said, "Money is not a complete substitute for time." Neither witness gave in to committee suggestions that the Mercury timetable should be speeded up. The target date for an American in orbit, they said, is still late this year, or even early next year.

Several committee members have shown intense interest lately in solid-fuel space vehicles. The now-developing Saturn booster, which will generate 1½ million pounds of thrust, is liquid fueled.

From Testimony

The committee interest stems from recent testimony of industry witnesses that a solid-fuel rocket could develop as much as 20 million pounds of thrust and be ready to go in 18 months.

Webb said, "If we want a parallel program with the Saturn program we will have to have a dual schedule with the expense involved."

There was little attempt to assess blame for the United States' second-place position in the space race.

Dryden did say the United States had started four years behind the Soviet Union. But Fulton asked if it wasn't true "there has been a pattern in both the Truman and the Eisenhower administrations that it—space research—has been popular and then not so popular?"

"There have been fluctuations," Dryden replied.

"Then you can't point to any one period and say that's where the fault lies, can you?" persisted Fulton.

"No, sir, you cannot," said Dryden.

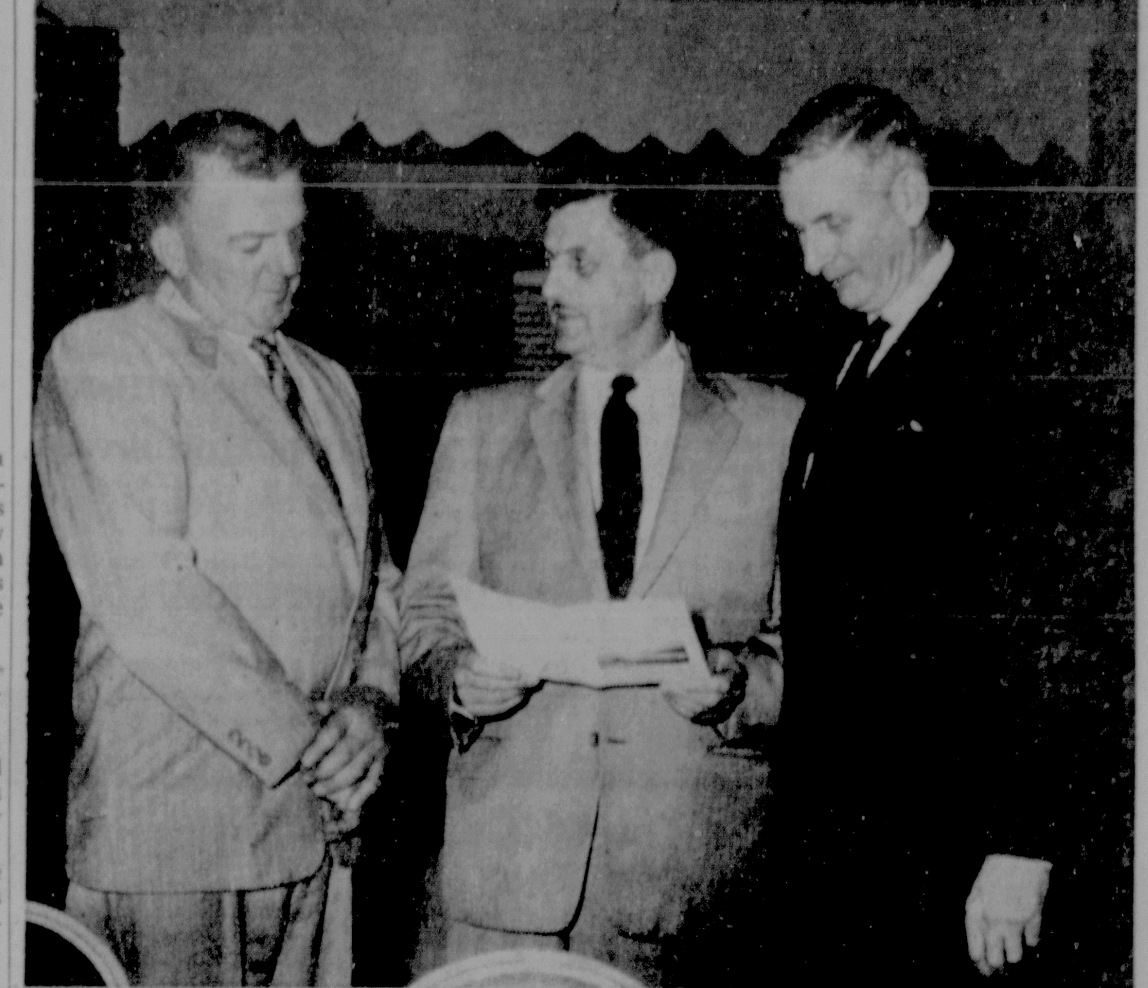

Morrissey Gets Area Road Job

THE STATE Highway Department yesterday awarded to James D. Morrissey Inc., of Philadelphia, a $2,032,343 contract for construction of 2.59 miles of the Keystone Shortway and Penn-Cam Highway east from Crescent Lake.

The highway, part of Interstate Route 80, is a relocation of Route 611. The stretch to be built by Morrissey adjoins the 2.25-mile section to be built by D. A. Kessler Construction Co., Mount Carmel, at a cost of $2,298,169.

Morrissey, lowest of nine bidders, also constructed the first section of the Keystone Shortway—the first phase of the Stroudsburg Thruway from Delaware Water Gap to East Stroudsburg. The second and third phases are under contract to J. H. Beers Co.

The highway will be a four-lane, limited-access road on which the federal government will pay 90 percent of the costs and the state the remainder.

Speaks In West End Goddard Urges Greater Use Of Multi-Purpose Dams

BRODHEADSVILLE — Dr. Maurice K. Goddard, state secretary of forests and waters, advocated greater use of multi-purpose dams and reservoirs in a speech here last night.

He spoke at the first annual cooperators' banquet of the Monroe County Soil Conservation District at the West End Fire Hall here.

The main purpose in building dams and reservoirs, Dr. Goddard said, was to control floods. Yet, he added, four other benefits can accrue through careful planning and a small added expenditure of funds.

He listed these additional uses for reservoirs: providing stable supplies of water for domestic purposes, industrial uses, agriculture and recreation.

Mentions Tocks Island
Dr. Goddard mentioned the Tocks Island Reservoir on the Delaware River as a multi-purpose project which would be built under a compact signed by four states, the federal government and two cities.

While designed principally for the control of periodic floods, the dam is ideally situated as a national park in the heart of the populous Northeast, and would attract from five to ten million visitors a year, the secretary declared.

Dr. Goddard also mentioned the flood control dams planned for the Brodheads and Pocono Creek watersheds and observed that, with a relatively small additional investment, each of the dam areas could be transformed into a recreation area highly beneficial to the region.

He said any municipality can go outside its limits, acquire the land adjoining a flood control reservoir and develop it as a community park. He cited the example of Denver, Colo., which has built a popular city park 120 miles from Denver.

The speaker referred to a federal law which permits the Army Engineers to build dams costing less than $400,000 without first obtaining congressional authorization. He said 95 percent of the $10,000,000 allocated for this purpose each year has gone to Western states, while not one of the dams has ever been built in Pennsylvania.

These dams, built with public funds, provide ample water supplies, flood control and in some cases, cheap power that attract industries from the East. Since we in the East are helping to pay for the dams, we are in effect subsidizing our own destruction by letting the West steal our factories, the secretary declared.

Must Store It

"We can use the water if we can store it," the speaker observed, adding that this can be accomplished if we build multi-purpose dams in sufficient numbers.

Dr. Goddard was introduced by Walter H. Sebring, assistant county superintendent of schools, who served as toastmaster and song leader.

He also presented four members of the county soil conservation committee, Chairman E. Elmer Kreger, William Baumgartner, Raymond Allegre and Sterling Wagner; members of cooperating agencies including Department of Forest and Waters, Game Commission, Department of Highways, Penn State Extension Service, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee and a number of other groups.

X-Ray Van In S-Burg Today

The X-Ray unit of the Monroe County Tuberculosis and Health Society, will be in front of Wyckoff's store in Stroudsburg today from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and from 1:30 to 6 p.m.

This is a free service by the society. It will be the only appearance of the van for the general public this summer.

Laws, Rules Are Needed In Immigration--Walter

THE elements of economic, social and political in the problem of immigration prompt sovereign nations to establish laws and rules, Rep. Francis E. Walter, (D-Monroe, Carbon and Northampton) told members of the Assembly of Captive European Nations organization yesterday.

The group is composed of representatives of refugees from countries behind the Iron Curtain.

Walter, of Easton, in speaking at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D.C., also informed the group that he has introduced a bill dealing with immigration and nationality matters. The bill was introduced in the House of Representatives yesterday.

Rep. Walter received an award from the ACEN organization for his work in the field of immigration and in opposing Communism. The assembly cited Walter for his work in aiding European refugees to settled in other nations. The presentation was made by Vlacovas Sidikauskas, pre-World War II Lithuanian ambassador to Great Britain.

"The phenomenon of migration is a composite of economic, social and political elements," he said. "It is the presence of these three elements in the problem of immigration that prompts sovereign nations to establish laws, rules and regulations determining the size of the foreign influx and discerning the quality of the migrant," the Easton Democrat said.

"It is the 'how many' and 'who' is coming that the law is concerned with. These two fundamental criteria rest at the base of immigration policies and laws of every country of the world, just as much as they constitute the two cornerstones of our laws," he remarked.

Rep. Walter told the group that if they were "to remain frozen, no country would be equipped to cope with the changing aspects of the problem, the vital importance of which could probably be best illustrated by comparing it with the injection or infusion of foreign blood into the veins of a living creature."

No More Practical

Walter asked them answered in rapid succession: "What are the changes in the world's conditions that must fashion our judgment at this time?"

"It becomes gradually evident that in the second half of the 20th century immigration is no more a practical remedy for over-population of one country or another. Industrialization, technological progress and economic growth have made appraisals of economic conditions based on density of population completely inaccurate and as obsolete as a horse and buggy in jet age."

"This conclusion is sustained by one glance at what is occurring in the highly industrialized countries of Europe. Germany, overpopulated to a degree of actual crowding, imports hundreds of thousands of workers from Italy and Greece, in addition to providing employment to the refugees from the East, streaming at the rate of approximately 1,000 per week," Walter continued.

He reported: "The density of population of industrialized Belgium is the highest in the entire world but Belgium, similarly imports additional workers. Demands for resettlement opportunities overseas, very vociferous in Holland up to about two years ago, have all but disappeared in that overpopulated country due to the exceedingly fast pace of its industrial development."

"On the other side of the ledger," he said, "Spain could be called an almost empty country, but it strives to send great numbers of its citizens abroad due to lack of industrial progress. The differences between the economic structure of northern and southern Italy, with industries thriving in the north and modern economic development neglected in the south, further serve as a convincing illustration of the diminishing relationship between density of population and economic conditions."

Instances of Abuse

In his new bill, Rep. Walter told the group that "increasing instances of abuse of our immigration laws have prompted me to propose to the Congress, several provisions designed to facilitate the expulsion of the racketeering elements, subversives and aliens who resort to fraud in obtaining entry and permanent residence in this country."

"Improved procedures and precise rules of evidence in judicial action bearing on immigration, deportation and naturalization are proposed in my bill to serve to correct laxities harmful to the national interest."

Walter concluded by saying that the country needs this legislation and he shall spare no effort to obtain its prompt enactment.

Udall Against Compact

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall said Thursday he is opposed to the federal government honoring a partner in a proposed water compact to develop water resources of the Delaware River Basin.

A bill has been introduced that would make the government a partner in the compact with Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Delaware.

Udall said the administration does not oppose the idea of the compact as such. And, he told reporters, the administration is interested "in seeing development of the Delaware River resources carried forward."

Several Problems

"But several problems need to be resolved," he said. "One of these is the exact role of the federal-state relationship."

He made his comment after a two-hour meeting with governors and other backers of the bill from the four states.

A statement of policy issued by Udall to the conferees questioned the constitutionality of the proposal and termed the proposed agency a "third form of government, responsible to neither of its parents"—that is, the state and federal governments.

The statement suggested that the compact be between the states with the government merely consenting, rather than between the states and the federal government.

Although terming the legal and policy questions complex, Udall tended to play down the extent of the difference between the federal position and that of those who back the bill.

Pennsylvania left before the meeting. "We were all upset," he said. Gov. David L. Lawrence of Indiana ended with an intent expression on his face. He said he had nothing to say as he hurried down the corridor with his executive secretary, Walter Giesey.

Laid It On

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., although declining to elaborate on what he told the administration representatives, was said by other participants to have "laid it on to Udall."

Demo Solons To Consider Redistricting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pennsylvania democratic leaders agreed Thursday to call a meeting here next Tuesday of the state's Democratic congressmen to consider a rearrangement of the state's congressional districts.

The decision was made at a luncheon meeting in the capitol attended by Gov. David L. Lawrence, Rep. Francis E. Walter, dean of the congressional delegation, and Rep. William J. Green, Philadelphia Democratic chairman.

Pennsylvania is due to lose three seats in the U.S. House of Representatives due to population shifts disclosed by the 1960 census.

OBITUARIES

Lloyd (Dutch) Serfass, 53, Dies In North Carolina

LLOYD D. (Dutch) Serfass, one of the nation's greatest showmen died Wednesday at 9 p.m. in the Duke University Hospital in Durham, N. C. He was 53 at the time of death.

Mr. Serfass was born in Saylorsburg, the son of Mrs. Nettie Hunsicker Serfass and the late Alvin Serfass.

He accomplished, what was his boyhood dream, to own and operate a carnival. The Penn Premier Shows came to life in Stroudsburg in 1937 and under his determination to fulfill a boyhood dream it became the world's largest motorized show.

During the first year the show never traveled more than 75 miles from its base in Stroudsburg and had it not been for Robert Kloess, a personal friend of Mr. Serfass, the show might not have gotten underway the second year.

Kloess owned a lot at the corner of Park Ave. and Lenox St. in Stroudsburg and operated a gas station situated on the property. It was on this ground that the show made its "winter quarters" as the guest of the property owner.

Mr. Serfass was a member of the Reformed Church, Stroudsburg; a veteran of the U. S. Marine Corps with service in the Second Nicaragua Campaign and WW II. J. Simpson Africa Lodge 628, F&AM, East Stroudsburg; Lehigh Consistory, Allentown; Irem Temple, Wilkes-Barre.

He was a past exalted ruler of BPO Elks 319, East Stroudsburg; a member of F. O. Eagles, Stroudsburg; VFW, Stroudsburg; American Legion, East Stroudsburg; Chemical Fire Co. Stroudsburg; and a past president of the National Showmen's Association.

Other memberships include Showmen's League of America, Pacific Coast Showmen's Association, The Greater Tampa Showmen's Association, Marine Corps League, and the Amvets.

In addition to his mother he is survived by his wife, Mrs. June Kistler Serfass, at home; one son, Lloyd A. Serfass, at home; one sister, Mrs. Fred Dennis, Stroudsburg.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by the William R. Thomas Funeral Home.

Deaf Dancers To Appear At ESSC

A GROUP of students from Gallaudet College, Washington, D. C., the only college in the world for the deaf, will present a program of dances tonight at 6:45 p. m. in the gymnasium of East Stroudsburg State College.

According to Gallaudet dance director Peter Wisner, the college has developed a "new art form" in the modern dance. In essence, he states, "... it is the transformation of signs to dance movement." For example, a sign used in communication is abstracted, thus making it an art form.

"When it is realized," Wisner points out, "that most deaf people think in concrete terms and that thinking in the abstract is especially difficult for them, you can readily see what an accomplishment it is for the deaf to formulate these abstractions in the dance."

Dance Program

Tonight, the group will present the following dances: "Row, Row, Row Your Boat," "Study in Jazz," "Night Train," "Calypso," "Rhythm," "Tango," "Cha Cha," "Primitive," "Spiritual," "The Lord's Prayer," "Mannequin's Cha Cha" and "Gallaudet Rock."

The Gallaudet dancers have performed in cities as far west as Little Rock, Ark. Tomorrow they will dance in New York City.

ESSC Graduate

Peter Wisner, the group's director, is also the head of the physical education department at Gallaudet. He is a graduate of East Stroudsburg State College, class of 1934.

He became interested in dancing when he took classes in that art from Professor Genevieve Zimbar, who was instrumental in introducing dancing classes at ESSC.

Wisner taught at Bloomsburg State College and the University of Maryland, before Gallaudet. He met Dr. Frank Sills, who is head of the health and physical education department at the local college, when both men were attending a convention of physical education teachers at Atlantic City in March.

Sills suggested that Wisner should come back and visit his "alma mater" some time. The latter said that he was taking his group to New York City for a presentation on April 15 and would be glad to stop at ESSC to give a program the 14th.

Student Club Helps
The Gallaudet dancers would come "free," said Wisner, but the members of the student physical education club at ESSC voted to present them with an honorarium for their program.

As one student remarked, "Anyone likes extra money to spend on a trip to New York."

The Civil Service Administration is "staggered," reports Joseph Young in The Washington Star. New Frontier administrators have filed requests that would more than double the number of federal job holders in the top salary brackets.

These top brackets, known in capital jargon as "super" grade 16 to 18 jobs, pay from $15,255 to $18,500 a year. There are now 2,091 jobs in those pay brackets, and the new requests would bring the number to 4,391.

This would come on top of a general pay raise enacted over President Eisenhower's veto last year.

Agitation also is going on to increase government contributions to civil service pension funds, to grant new fringe benefits and to allow retirement with full pension after 30 years' service regardless of age.

These pressures will be harder than ever to resist, now that the District of Columbia has been franchised to vote in Presidential elections. There are now more than two and a quarter million civilian federal employees, who with their families, represent one of the major voting blocks in the nation.

Opinions Of Other Editors

Geneva Merry-Go-Round

During the campaign, President Kennedy promised that his Administration would make one last effort to reach agreement with the Soviet Union on a treaty banning nuclear weapons tests.

Despite abundant evidence of Soviet stalling during the two-year-old talks, the American people generally were agreeable to the idea of making one more try for a treaty.

In late March, the attempt was made. The Kennedy Administration, after much study, laid before the Soviets a set of proposals representing major concessions to Soviet demands—representing too many concessions, in the opinion of some Westerners. The Kremlin has not even replied to these proposals.

Instead, it suggests the creation of a "directorate," with each of the three representatives empowered to veto proposed inspections. Such a setup, of course, would make a mockery of any inspection safeguards written into the treaty, and Western negotiators have told the Soviets so.

Meantime, the need for resumption of nuclear weapons tests—suspended by the U.S. since 1958—grows more imperative. Our nuclear arsenal is in danger of becoming obsolete; scientific talent is being dispersed due to the lengthy test moratorium.

At best, the U.S. has lost two years that might have been spent in research and development of improved nuclear weapons. At worst, the Soviets may have used the uninspected test ban secretly to steal a march on the West.

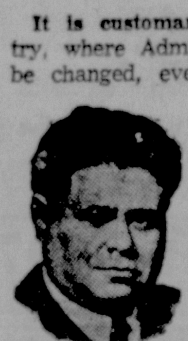

In any event, it is as clear as anything can be that the Kennedy Administration true to its promise, has made a generous final offer. And that the offer has been rejected.

If the Soviets ever really wanted a test-ban treaty, they obviously don't want one now—unless it is written to their own specifications. No further "clarification" of Soviet intentions is needed. The United States and Great Britain should promptly get off the Geneva merry-go-round.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

First Hundred Days

It is customary, in this country, where Administrations can be changed, every four years, to give an incoming President an opportunity to get started with-out too much opposition.

General I y he appoints to his Cabinet whomever he chooses. He is given time to acquaint himself with public affairs, the American people generously assuming that a President needs to learn the intimacies of his job.

President John Kennedy has been treated better than most Presidents have been by the press, by Congress and by the opposition party, the Republican Party.

This is undoubtedly due to his charming personality, his swift approach to the problems which he faces, the delightful characters of his wife and daughter, to the relief from the cold and distant personality which President Eisenhower chose to present to his people.

Now, the first 100 days are reaching their close. Jack Kennedy is now a full-fledged President, standing on his own, to be criticized and even attacked, as is customary in our country.

I think President Kennedy will have a longer period of respite than most Presidents have had because the times are so perilous and many of the issues are hardly understood by the American people.

How much do most of us really understand of the piling up of issues in the Congo, in Laos, in South Vietnam, in Peking, in Moscow? More and more our people are becoming conscious of the fact that some time in the past, events have occurred and agreements have been made which are damaging to the United States.

Young men and women who are now coming of age, wonder why they are being burdened by the errors of their elders. They do not remember Roosevelt or much about Truman.

They are not mystified by the amazing statements of World War II, the great Churchill, the mysterious Stalin, the wicked Hitler, the gross Mussolini. These are names like Julius Caesar or Napoleon or even Genghis Khan. They see these names in books but they do not feel the impress of their personalities.

They are not astounded by the atom bomb or the hydrogen bomb. Many of them have studied sufficient science to know all about such toys. They take things in their stride that we elders never heard about.

They read symbols which are gibberish to us. The nature of their education has changed.

Do they know more? That depends upon what one means by the word, know, and that brings us back to President Jack Kennedy. He is closer to the younger generations than almost any President has been.

This gives him an enormous advantage over a man like Eisenhower who was an elderly gentleman of the generation of World War II. Kennedy is current.

Each generation approaches identical problems differently and Kennedy approaches current problems in closer consonance to his own generation. His is bound to be a very different approach from that of either Eisenhower or Truman.

Thus, some of Kennedy's attitudes are shocking to an older generation, but that does not matter. What is significant are the results of his thinking and his actions. The Kennedy-Macmillan Conferences could not have been anything like the Roosevelt-Churchill Conferences, say, at Quebec.

Roosevelt tended to be a flatterer; Churchill was a salesman, selling the glories of the British Empire for full American support. Churchill did an amazingly good job for his country which will ever honor him for his success.

Jack Kennedy is not likely ever to make such a deal as Roosevelt made at Teheran. Jack Kennedy will probably develop into a nationalist as ne grows in the Presidency.

During the first 100 days there have been many excursions and alarms but it is too early to see any results of all the activity. In times like these, the course of events is never swift, although patience and reticence often become defeat.

On the other hand, we are so close to a shooting war with the Soviet Union State, that the President wants to be sure that should war come, it is war by choice, not war by accident.

Sunshine And Shadow

The Pennsylvania Story

Fiscal Facts

By Mason Denison
Harrisburg — Reporter's Notebook:

"Security" Lid Clampdown — State Treasurer Robert F. Kent this week issued the last of his "monthly reports" on the financial condition of the Commonwealth—a report that in the four years of his tenure has not been a "projection," "theory" or "statistical wrangling" but rather a simple arithmetical statement of dollars and cents balances in each of the state's nearly 60 funds.

The one-page monthly "Treasurer's Letter" on the reverse side from the fund listings invariably carried a written "statement of facts" regarding Pennsylvania's fiscal affairs.

Except from this month's missive: "Total collections (for the two-year 1959-61 biennium) to the end of March, 1961 amounted to $1,447 billion, leaving a balance of $386 million to be collected during the months of April and May, 1961."

On the surface the statement appears harmless enough—but $386 million remaining to be collected during the two-month period is a lot of "due" revenue when you stop to realize that the average monthly income for the two-year biennial span, on the basis of $1.8 billion, should be around only $76 million!

Republican Treasurer Kent goes out of office at the end of the month and in his place will step a new treasurer of the same political faith as the Democratic Lawrence Administration . . . Indications are that at the "suggestion" of the "front office" the monthly Treasurer's reports will be discontinued.

After all, in the past the Treasury reports too often did not agree with reports of the administration's own Budget Office . . . Elimination of the monthly reports will not only help keep the administration and the elected fiscal office in "harmonious accord" but also eliminate the teeth-grinding that of times prevailed on the administration side.

After May 1 it will be "all within the family"—the "security" lid clampdown.

Committees and more committees — One of the more amusing aspects of the bulky 2,000-page report of the special Governor's Committee studying Pennsylvania's education system, was the reaction itself this week of some lawmakers following the Governor's address on the subject before a joint House-Senate session.

This one paragraph from the Governor's address tickled the funnybone of some lawmakers: "I would suggest to the Legislature that each house create a select committee, equally divided between the parties, to consider legislation which might be appropriately introduced and acted upon at this session."

"Alas," signed veteran GOP House Floor Leader Albert W. Johnson, of McKean County, "we're headed right back to the point where we started in the first place—the inevitable committee. It certainly seems that the administration, after having had all this committee work done for it already, could come up with its own recommendations as it has on most other items — of a not too controversial nature. Apparently what we need is a committee to oversee the committee named to oversee the committee that was a sub-committee of the main committee."

Mr. Johnson might have a point. Unquestionably the "committee system" is one of the best devices ever developed for escaping individual onus — particularly in the political world.

Up Periscope! — A glance the other day at the Auditor General's "Daily Register" of selected documents sent to his office for processing indicated the tidy sum of $50,844.78 for "paper bags" — which at first bag-burst and no matter how you look at it, seems like a tremendous pile of paper! . . . It is a tremendous pile — but when you stop to think about it, it begins to make sense in a way . . . The "paper bags" were ordered by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board for use by its stores scattered throughout the state . . . Nothing goes out of a liquor store in this state that isn't "bagged."

Next time you make one of these purchases (if you're one who does) admire that piece of paper — to the tune of $50,844.78 worth!

Matrimonial bliss in Hollywood: At dinner one evening Producer Billy Wilder's lovely wife Audrey (Wilder is responsible for "Some Like It Hot," "The Apartment," and a dozen other screen triumphs) announced blithely, "Darling, do you realize this is our anniversary?" Wilder poised a fork in midair and reproached her, "Please — not while I'm eating."

QUOTES HEARD FROM AROUND THE COUNTY:

Helen Kresge, bookkeeper deluxe of Stroudsburg, "The Colonial Ladies League banquet was the best ever enjoyed by our gals. The food was out of this world."

John Foelker, Stroudsburg, "Get my fishing rod ready, I'm raring to hit the streams."

Rev. Roger Stimson, Stroudsburg Methodist church, "How do you like the weather? Thought so. It sure is bad for this time of the year."

Earl Metzgar, the happy man of East Stroudsburg, "Can't wait to hear that my son Douglas has received notice to enter the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md."

Milo Megargle, the gent from the mountains, "If this weather keeps up I'll have to give up golf. Don't take me serious, I'll play rain or shine, snow or sleet."

Kenny Brown, the fellow who played football for East Stroudsburg and now lives in Stroudsburg, "Can't wait until the grid season gets underway. That's the sport for me."

Ruth Williams, the personable saleslady of Stroudsburg, "Believe me, there was a time when weather was worth its weight in gold. Now its only worth its weight in snow."

Lou Steen, Saylorsburg, "There is nothing like a good song to cheer a person up."

Al Schmidt, the self-tagged "mayor" of Delaware Water Gap, "Did you know I have put on 10 pounds. Now I weigh 108."

Floyd Kellogg, Stroudsburg, "There's nothing like having a flag around the house to let you know you live in the greatest land on earth."

Try and Stop Me

A ham actor's wife had been dead for two years — and hadn't acknowledged his existence for five years before that, but still he burst into tears at mention of her name. "Aren't you putting it on a bit?" he was asked finally. "You don't realize what a wonderful woman my wife was," sobbed the ham. "Never once did she slip me a check that bounced."

Matrimonial bliss in Hollywood: At dinner one evening Producer Billy Wilder's lovely wife Audrey (Wilder is responsible for "Some Like It Hot," "The Apartment," and a dozen other screen triumphs) announced blithely, "Darling, do you realize this is our anniversary?" Kennedy To Travel

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott
Washington — President Kennedy may do quite a bit of traveling in his own country later this year.

Democratic Chairman John Bailey and other party leaders strongly favor that.

While the matter is still in the preliminary talk stage and no planning has yet been undertaken, it is significant that these political strategists deem it important the President make a series of personal appearances in major sections of the country in the fall.

High on their list are the Midwest and Pacific Coast, where the Republicans scored heavily last year. At the annual Midwest Democratic Conference last week, leaders from every participating state told Bailey the President "must" make a tour of their section and urged him to impress that on the President.

They contended that would greatly help the party locally and the President nationally. Nebraska Gov. Frank Morrison already has invited the President to address the centennial ceremonies for the late great Senator George Norris, militant public power champion and author of the original Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) legislation. No date has been set for this anniversary pending word from the President.

Sincerely, Governor "Pat" Brown of California is eager to have the President go there. Brown, under heavy fire in his state and facing a tough re-election battle next year, feels a Kennedy visit would appreciably help him. The President is evincing definite interest in such speaking trips. As yet, he has not authorized any preparations. But that the general idea decidedly appeals to him is indicated by his remark in one conversation, "What about the South? Why not make a swing there? We have a great many friends in those states."

Currently the President has four speaking dates on his schedule—in Chicago, April 28, at a Jefferson-Jackson Day fundraising dinner; Washington, May 27, a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner in honor of his birthday; a similar affair in Boston on May 29; and a commencement address in June at the University of West Virginia in Morgantown.

Chairman Bailey also wants Vice President Lyndon Johnson and members of the cabinet to "get about the country" after Congress adjourns.

The National Committee has numerous requests for speeches by Johnson, Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges, Postmaster General Edward Day, HEW Secretary Abraham Ribicoff, Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg, Navy Secretary John Connally and Army Secretary Elvis Stahr.

New Frontier — Camp David, in nearby Maryland, may be used by President Kennedy and his family after all. Before taking office, he indicated no interest in this 600-acre camp in Catoctin Mountain Park that was used as a retreat for both rest and business by his three immediate predecessors — Franklin Roosevelt, Harry Truman and Dwight Eisenhower. But now Kennedy is having second thoughts, and has asked his personal physician, Dr. Janet Travell, to inspect and report on the camp. It has had a series of names. FDR called it "Shangri-La," and used it for secret conferences with Winston Churchill and other Allied leaders. President Eisenhower named the place "Camp David" for his grandson. The facilities include a main lodge for the President and his family, three guest cabins, a swimming pool, two tennis courts and a bowling alley . . . Vice President Johnson, who has dined off more than 15 pounds in the past several months, is now boasting he is wearing suits made for him ten years ago.

Treasury Secretary Dillon, life-long Republican and Undersecretary of State in the Eisenhower Administration, has become one of President Kennedy's closest cabinet advisers. Kennedy consults Dillon on a wide range of domestic and foreign problems. In the past several weeks, the President has conferred with Dillon one or more times a day either personally or by phone. Dillon is very proud of this close association.

Interior Undersecretary James Carr is a rugged Californian, but he is finding the New Frontier highly demanding. Asked by a friend to sum up his first two months, Carr replied wearily, "Exhausting. We work a 70-hour week, and are lucky it's no worse."

Political — Former Governor Alf Landon, Kansas, 1936 Republican presidential candidate, asked what he thought of the Birch Society, replied, "It is a bunch of stuffed-shirt crackpots doing more harm than good. There is a group of them in my state, and they are the center of the right-to-work legislation, which I have consistently opposed."

Rep. Wayne Hays (D., O.), after receiving a series of caustically badgering letters from a constituent, sent him the following, "Dear Sir: In recent weeks I have been hearing from a crackpot who has written letters signed with your name. I thought you ought to know about that before he gets out of hand." Hays says he hasn't heard from the writer since.

Republican Chairman Thurston Morton, who is quitting next month to start campaigning for re-election as senior Senator of Kentucky, is stepping up his sharpshooting at the Kennedy regime. In a talk to Young Republicans from Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland, Morton told them, "Washington has become a Harvard yard annex . . . and JFK really means Jobs for Kinkfolds."

ESC Board Holds Off Action On Dismissals

NO action was taken last night by the board of trustees of the State College at East Stroudsburg at a special meeting called to consider two specific items:

To thoroughly review the minutes of the last meeting; and to instruct the secretary how to answer letters received from Miss Adeline Moses and Carl Woolver.

Woolver, superintendent of grounds, and Miss Moses, purchasing agent, were dismissed by the board of trustees at their meeting on March 16. Reason given for the dismissals in letters sent to them was "lack of cooperation with the board of trustees and administration."

Special Meeting

Board president, Bernard Briordy, called the special meeting at the request of two trustees. Business was limited to the specific items on the agenda. The minutes of the last meeting were read, with no criticism or corrections.

In the second item, the board voted unanimously that the matter of instructions on answers to the letters from the two former employees be postponed for consideration at the regular May meeting.

Martin Keeps Attendance Mark Intact

NEWFOUNDLAND — V. A. Martin, former advisor to the chief of vocational agriculture in Pennsylvania, kept his 33 perfect years attendance record intact when he arrived, "between snow storms" for the annual father and son banquet of Greene-Dreher FFA at Southern Wayne Joint School.

Presentation of awards and the crowning of the Chapter Sweetheart highlighted the event.

Miss Shirley Strada, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Strada, Sterling, was honored as the chapter sweetheart. She had been chosen by popular vote as "The Sweetest Farm Girl" in the senior class.

Awards were presented as follows: Michael Newcomer, First National Bank of Newfoundland Dairy Herd Records; Norton Beers, Farm Mechanics; Donald Wilnot, Public Speaking; Bruce McLain, Gerald McLain and Floyd Thomas, Dairy Projects; Dale Stevens, Star Green Hand; Floyd Thomas, Chapter Star Farmer and the DeKalb Award.

The theme of the banquet was "Education and Automation For Better Farming." Speakers were Michael Newcomer who spoke on "Why We Chose This Topic," and John Olsommer who spoke on "Education;" and Donald Wilnot, Whose topic was "Automation."

Dr. Glen Stevens was awarded the Chapter Farmer Degree. Floyd Thomas, president of the club was master of ceremonies and Norton Beers was toastmaster.

Special guests of the FFA in addition to Martin, were Dr. N. K. Hoover, Pennsylvania State University; J. J. Weber, Wayne County extension official, and Supervising Principal Leland Cramer.

The dinner was served by the Future Homemakers of America, Southern Wayne Chapter, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Ziegler, homemaking instructor, and Mrs. Elsie Simon, Mrs. Thelma Peet and Mrs. Beatrice Simons, all of the cafeteria staff.

Donald Wilnot was general chairman of the event. Other committee members include printing and decorating, Floyd Thomas, David Gearhart and Harold Lee; dinner, Gerald McLain, Bruce McLain and James Lee; invitations and seating, Norton Beers, Michael Newcomer and LeRoy Robbins; check room, John Olsommer, Richard Williams and Stanley Bartleson; finances, Donald Kimble, Donald Wilnot and Robert Williams.

Carroll Curtis is the advisor of the local chapter in Southern Wayne Joint School.

State Starts Processing Road Claims

Record Bureau Harrisburg
HARRISBURG — State road damage claims totaling $86,025.28 are being processed for payment by the State Auditor General's Department to 14 Monroe County property owners.

The road damage claims—which have now been certified to the State Auditor General by the Department of Highways—represents state reimbursements to property owners for highway improvement projects in the area.

Awards now being processed for payment include six along the Penn-Can Highway (Interstate 80). Claims are:

William J. and Stella M. Gabel, Tannersville, Pocono Township, $2,800.

Melvin L. Heinbach, c/o Pennsylvania Department of Highways, Allentown, Stroud and Hamilton Townships, $41,000 (Partial payment).

Calvin L. and Gertrude Kresge, Tannersville, Pocono Township, $4,200.

Wilson W. Merring, Stroudsburg, Stroud Township, $5,500. Granville Shiffer, Stroudsburg, Hamilton and Pocono Townships, $2,600.

George R. and Lorraine O. Woodling, Stroudsburg, Stroud Township, $1,153.

Three awards cover properties along the Stroudsburg Bypass: George F. and Thelma Mae Ockershausen, Stroudsburg, Stroud Township, $1,510.

David W. and Margaret B. Powell, c/o Pennsylvania Department of Highways, Allentown, East Stroudsburg Borough and Smithfield Township, $3,200.

Stroudsburg Municipal Authority, c/o Harold E. Snyder, Asst. Sec., Stroudsburg, Stroudsburg Borough, $11,946.26 (Relocating facilities).

Remaining awards include: The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, Legislative Route 45032 in Barrett Township, $1,431.02 (Relocating facilities).

Jack London, Tannersville, Legislative Route 45081 in Pocono Township, $2,500.

Allen E. and Lena B. Prutzman, Jim Thorpe, access road to the Pocono resort area in Polk Township, $1,335.

Wilson H. Smith, Saylorsburg, Legislative Route 45006 in Ross Township, $2,200.

Wagner's Run Association, c/o W. W. Seltzer, Harrisburg, State Route 940 between Blakeslee Corners and Pocono Summit, $4,650 (Court Award).

start the hour-long examination at 9:45.

The main purpose of the tournament is to create interest in mathematics and to encourage students with special interest and ability in mathematics to continue their mathematics studies. The tournament is composed of seven divisions:

(1) SEVENTH GRADE ARITHMETIC: For seventh grade students only.

(2) EIGHTH GRADE ARITHMETIC: For eighth grade students only or seventh grade students who will have completed seventh and eighth grade arithmetic by the end of the year. In the event a student has taken a half year of an advanced course, the instructor involved shall determine the category in which the student shall participate.

(3) GENERAL MATHEMATICS: For any students who have not passed a course higher than arithmetic in mathematics. There is no grade restriction.

(4) ALGEBRA I: Enter only those students who are completing Algebra I this year and who have not had any higher mathematics. The same applies as in Division I if a student has completed a half year of an advanced course.

(5) PLANE GEOMETRY: Enter only those students who are completing plane geometry this year.

(6) ALGEBRA II: Enter only those students who are completing Algebra II this year.

(7) COMPREHENSIVE MATHEMATICS: For juniors and seniors only. Testing in this division will include problems from all mathematics covered in the four years of high school, and arithmetic covered in their pre-high school education.

Seniors completing plane geometry this year may choose between the comprehensive mathematics or the plane geometry examination.

Seniors completing Algebra II this year may choose between the comprehensive mathematics or the Algebra II examination.

Same Restrictions
The same restrictions as last year have been set, by the council, this year regarding the number of students each district may enter. The limitations are as follows:

Stroud Union90
East Stbg. Area Jointure 80
Pocono Mtns. Jointure ...80
Pleasant Valley Jointure 50

The council announced it will give either cash or suitable gift awards totaling $245 this year for the first time. The exact amounts of the awards will be determined the night of the tournament. The council is striving to increase this in future years to at least one scholarship to the Comprehensive Mathematics division winner.

First Problem
The Daily Record will carry a series of 14 sample problems which have been used in previous County Tournaments. The solution to each problem will be given the next day. The first problem follows:

The following is an Algebra I problem which was in a previous Monroe County Mathematics Tournament: A man travels 4 hours at 5 miles per hour and then travels "h" hours at 4 miles per hour. What is his average rate per hour? Answer tomorrow.

19,354 Voters Eligible

MONROE County Commissioners reviewed the voters' registration in the county in preparation for the primary election of May 16.

Total registration in the county for this election is 19,354, this compares with 20,044 for the general election held last November.

A break down of the registration is as follows: Democrats, 11,385; Republicans, 7,720; Non-Partisans, 149; Independents, 99, and Prohibitionists, 1.

In other business William Altier appeared to ask the commissioners consideration to name the Pocono Mountain Vacation Bureau as the agency of Monroe County to operate under House Bill 558 which passed in the House of Representatives and is presently in the Senate.

900-Plus X-Rayed By TB Society

MORE than 900 high school pupils in Monroe County have had free chest x-rays to date Mrs. Estelle Flemming, executive secretary Monroe County Tuberculosis and Health Society, said last night.

Yesterday the x-ray van visited East Stroudsburg Area Joint High School, Barrett and Tobyhanna Township Schools. In East Stroudsburg Area Joint School 294 pupils were given chest x-rays; Barrett Township High School 75, and Tobyhanna Township High School, 43.

The totals x-rays taken to date in the schools are 924.

14 Inches Of Snow In Mountains

LAANNA—A 24-hour snow storm spilled 14 inches of snow on this Pocono Mountain community ending about 10 p. m. last night. This was on top of the remaining heap left over from Monday's storm.

Snow plows from the State Highway Department plowed around the clock to keep the roads open in the area.

As one cold, wet person said after going out to measure the snowfall, "This is it—Spring is here."

St. John's Church Plans $175,000 Building Drive

AN every-member canvass to raise a minimum of $175,000 toward the construction of a new educational building and the improvement of existing facilities will get underway at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church on Sunday, May 14. The new addition will be at the rear of the present Church building located at north Ninth St. near Main. Arthur Henning, general chairman of the campaign committee, said yesterday that "members will be asked to take advantage of a three-year payment period which allows 156 weeks for full payment of subscriptions. Planning and preparations for the fund-drive started two weeks ago.

Vice chairmen and key captains of the executive committee are:

Section A — Vice Chairman, Edwin F. Buck; captains, Mark W. Altomero and Richard Hammond;

Section B — Vice Chairman, Warren F. Mikels; captains, William R. Yost and Edward W. Steinhauer;

Section C — Vice Chairman, Howard J. Keiper, Jr.; captains, Russell W. Kern and Howard R. DeNike;

Section D — Vice Chairman, Evan S. Kintz; captains, Richard W. Shook and Nevin L. Buck;

Section E — Vice Chairman, Clarence S. Kitchen; captains, Donald L. Cramer and Russell Renninger.

Team Captains
Working with the above 17 men of the executive committee are the following team captains:

Section A — John A. Dunkelberger, Calvin G. Butts and Ralph E. Shupp;

Section B — Floyd E. Eetherman, Edward Yost and Elston J. Arnst;

Section — Walter A. Weber, Paul E. Ackerman and Thomas Kitchen;

Section D — William F. Heckman, Lamont W. Hornbeck and John A. Kitchen;

Section E — James W. Hantj, Charles C. Widmer and Alfred W. Munson.

Each captain will head a group of 5 team members, totaling 125.

When enlistment is complete the canvassing organization will number 157 men. Committee members will be commissioned at the 8:30 and 10:45 a.m. services, Sunday, May 14.

The Rev. Charles H. Ruloff, pastor said, "every generation in every congregation ought to make a sacrificial contribution to their church as a visible evidence of gratitude to God for all His mercies. The task we have set for ourselves is long overdue. When it is accomplished it will be to the glory of God and our members will have a deep satisfaction that comes to those who truly love the church and give themselves for it."

Theodore Henning, of Metropolitan Edison Co., said his repair crews were busily replacing fuses that had blown but that no serious interruptions were noted to the consumers.

He also said a line was down near Shawnee but was not considered too serious. Crewmen were making repairs yesterday at the spot.

Value

There are a number of Cadillac virtues that are valuable beyond measurement. Foremost among these is the wonderful acceptance of the car—and the eloquence with which it reveals the character of its owner. Another is the satisfaction the man at the wheel enjoys in knowing that he has surrounded himself and his family with every motoring safeguard. And yet another is the manner in which a Cadillac refreshes a man—and provides him a sanctuary in a busy world. These are but a few of the many extra values that make Cadillac the most tempting possession of its time.

Coolbaugh Twp. Fire Warnings

TOBYHANNA — In keeping with the fire prevention warnings, especially during the early Spring weeks, the Coolbaugh Township Volunteer (Fire Co. at Tobyhanna is using every medium at its command to warn landowners of the dangers involved.

Anyone in the area who plans to burn brush are requested to call the fire company for a standby engine and crew. Fire Chief Lloyd Knecht's phone number is TW 4-8292.

The company, it was reported at a meeting on Wednesday, had assisted over forty property owners this past winter troubled with flooded cellars. The pumpers are always available for such emergencies, it was noted at the session.

In another maneuver to provide greater protection to the people, the fire company is testing its sirens every Saturday for a one-minute period at noon.

Also underway is the new First Aid class. The standard course starts on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the firehouse. An authorized instructor has been selected by the Stroudsburg Chapter of the American Red Cross to train the more than 25 enrollees. Anyone interested in joining the class may do so.

South Wayne Teams Visit Maryknoll

NEWFOUNDLAND — Southern Wayne Joint Schools' debating teams traveled to Maryknoll Junior Seminary in Clarks Summit this week to debate against the Maryknoll teams.

The SWJS affirmative team defeated Maryknoll's negative team 33 to 25. The local negative team was defeated 35-33.

James Madden and Ann Cramer took the affirmative, and Robert Hazleton and Richard Crooks, the negative.

Other debating team members who were present from SWJS were Rudolph Brodowsky, Larry Kelter, and Terry Staph, and the team's advisor, Adolph Caprioli.

The school eliminations for the forensics are scheduled for Friday, April 14. Winners of these contests will go to Norristown High School, Montgomery County, on April 24 and 26, to compete in the district forensics.

The SWJS participants have a high goal this year, in that the local entrant, Jean Mary Burdick, last year won the district competition at Norristown and placed in the State finals. Last year was the first time the SWJS students had participated in forensics, and this year is the first they have entered the debating field.

Altemose Elected Commander

JOSEPH ALTEMOSE was elected commander of the Pocomo Memorial Barracks, Veterans of WW I at its recent meeting in the VFW home in Stroudsburg.

Others elected are Floyd F. Gieger, senior vice commander; John W. Wallace, junior vice commander; Ralph Brodsky, quartermaster; Walter Heckman, chaplain; Willard Price, judge advocate and Andrew Mery, adjutant.

Three trustees were elected also. They are: Carl Christian, Collins Van Gordon and John McConnell.

The officers were installed by State Senior Vice Commander W. W. Woolley.

Following the installation a brief discussion on House Bill HR 745, which will amend the U. S. Code and provide a pension for veterans of WW I, was held.

Must File Income Tax

PERSONS who received social security benefits and earned over $1200 in 1960 must file a report on their 1960 earnings by April 15, unless they were 72 or older during all of 1960.

This report, according to Harry R. Peterman, manager of the Easton social security office, is the way the Social Security Administration checks to see they have received all benefits due for 1960.

For example, even though a person earned more than $1200 during 1960, he can receive a payment for any month in which he neither earned more than $100 in wages nor was active in his own business.

Although total earnings for the year may have been as much as $3080, a person may still be able to get some benefits because of the 1960 changes in the social security law.

Cheerleaders Set For Clinic

BANGOR—On Saturday, the Cheerleaders of Bangor Area Joint High School will attend a Cheerleaders Clinic at the Milton Hershey School, Hershey, Pennsylvania.

The clinic will be conducted by Lawrence R. Herkimer of the National Cheerleaders Association of Dallas, Texas.

Included in the clinic will be the teaching of cheerleading techniques, the demonstrations of yells, and the teaching of new songs and pep rally ideas.

Cheerleaders who will attend the clinic are: Sharon Kauffman, captain, Loretta Angelino, Jane Strunk, Karen Godshalk, Judy Schultz, Karen Strout, Sue Chamberlin, Carol Strouse, Brenda Fehr and Mrs. Kathryn V. Schott, Advisor.

cus Societies, which will convene at the local Adventist school Saturday at 3:00 p.m.

The visiting church official directs the laymen's program of the church in seven eastern states—New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, West Virginia—and the District of Columbia. Halladay is also a member of the Advisory Council of the Laymen's Division of the General Conference of Adventists.

Blakeslee

Mrs. Grace W. Bush

THE MONTHLY meeting of the board of directors of the Community House was held Tuesday night at the home of Rodney Waltz.

The Community Hymn Sing was held Saturday night at the Blakeslee Methodist Church. Paul Gardner presided and read the scriptures. Rev. Crossley had the opening prayer and Rev. Chappel the benediction. The Pocono Lake Church of Christ, the Pilgrim Holiness and the Blakeslee Methodist Church each had several special numbers. The Junior Choir of the host church sang "Ring the Easter Bells."

Mr. and Mrs. James Mackes Sr., of White Haven, called on the latter's sister, Mrs. Emory Getz on Monday morning.

Dr. Ruth Knoblock and son William, of Little Valley, New York, were recent callers of the Robert Kelpner family and Mrs. Walter Waltz.

Mr. and Mrs. John Burger called on relatives in Palmerton on Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Kerriek and family of New Jersey were recent guests of Mr. Kerriek's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Kerriek, of Stoddardsville.

The Community House directors are planning to have a parcel post sale on April 22 at 8 o'clock at the Community House. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Paul Argot and children, of Pocono Lake, called on Mr. and Mrs. Emory Getz on Sunday afternoon. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Keenapple and family and Mr. Keenapple's mother, all of White Haven.

Bookie Device

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — City morality officers report the latest device used by bookies to do away with evidence is a betting slip that vanishes at the touch of a cigarette. One said it can be touched off in the hand without leaving a burn or trace.

Development Of Community Forest Park Is Endorsed

DEVELOPMENT of a community forest park on a 180-acre tract along Flagler's Run, north of Stroudsburg, was endorsed by Eugene F. McNamara, district forester, at Wednesday's luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

The land is owned by the Stroudsburg Municipal Authority, but no longer used as a source of the borough's water supply.

The property consists of 85 acres of forest, more than 90 acres of partially cleared land and a large pond.

McNamara suggested that the tract be developed and operated by a park commission with the help of state agencies such as Soil Conservation Service and the Department of Forests and Waters. Those two agencies, he said, are preparing a 10-year plan for the tract which could be adopted by the local commission.

Already Proposed
McNamara said that development of a park on the property had already been proposed by

Student Forum To End Rumpus

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Campus leaders at Franklin and Marshall College met with Dean James Darlington Thursday and agreed to create a student forum to deal with gripes of the sort which caused a 3½ hour rumpus.

More than 800 students took part in the demonstration Wednesday night. It was in protest against restrictions imposed after a fraternity initiation.

Police broke up the demonstration but made no arrests. The forum, the first session of which is scheduled for next Thursday, will handle questions from the student body, ranging from the quality of the food in the dining hall to administration policies.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Bears may have something with this hibernating business. Yesterday was certainly no world to face on an empty stomach. But you'd need a deeper burrow than I had to stay asleep. The overgrown evergreens were fairly clawing at the windows with their snow heavy branches in yesterday morning's 5 a.m. wind.

And, once awake, there was no escaping either the elements or the news, so it was no day to stay home alone, either. Which is why I was glad to have an excuse to go to somebody else's house. Particularly to the Tarrs on Thomas St.

Bill and Kay have redecorated in the most restful shades of beige and brown with gold accents that is cheerful even in yesterday's prevailing gloom.

There's no gloom whatever for two new grandfathers, even though the first thing that happens is that the new grandma goes hiking off leaving grandpa to cope with his new status all by himself. Anyway, look for Elton Denning and Arly Williams to be dining out these nights.

And look for all of us to be dining out about ten times a week if we try to keep up with annual luncheons, banquets, conferences and what-nots with which organizations consider it necessary to wind up the year.

To end on a cheerful note. There are some people who are happy about the weather: the women who bought fur jackets in the Spring Fur Sales.

Society of 28th

Gateway Post 36 Society of the 28th Division and its auxiliary will meet Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the VFW Home. A buffet supper will follow the meeting. Mrs. Celia Sipthorpe is chairman.

Little League Aux.

The Women's Aux. of the Stroudsburg Little League will hold the first meeting of the year on Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the PP&L building. Election of officers will be held and plans discussed for the coming season.

Fun In Sun With Pocono Fashions

A Community Fashion Show will highlight the annual Hotel Show under the auspices of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce. It will be featured at the luncheon in the ballroom of the Penn-Stroud Hotel on Thursday, April 27, at noon.

Sum-up to sundown fashions for tiny tots to the young at heart, the show planned by merchants of both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg will encompass everything from bathing suits to mink coats.

To be coordinated and commented by Sally Ferree, the theme of the show will be "Fun in the Sun" with emphasis on sportswear casual and late-day creations from Smith's Fashion Apparel, Wyckoff's, Donald's, The Laurel Queen Shop, Jere's and The Famous Store.

Both men's and women's clothes will be shown by Herb's His and Her Shop and menswear from DeVivo, Quaresimo and Sons.

Children will enter the fashion picture in togs from Harold's Kiddy Shop and Newberry's. Accessories from George's Smart Footwear and furs by Akoury will complete the round-the-clock look.

There will be accommodations for 250 guests with no tickets necessary for the show and no charge except for the luncheon itself, which is being arranged by Eric Shuchard. Special music for the luncheon and fashion show will be played by Richard Matlock.

St. Mary's Altar, Rosary Society Plans Events

Mount Pocono—Rev. Augustine Peravada CSC, professor of history at Kings College will be the speaker at the Communion breakfast of the Altar and Rosary Society of St. Mary of the Mount Roman Catholic Church. It was announced by Mrs. George Riez, chairman, at the meeting held in the church auditorium on Sunday night. It will be held at High Point Inn.

Final reports were given by the chairman for the Spaghetti dinner to be held in the church auditorium on Saturday, April 29.

The visiting committee for the month will be Mrs. Joseph Callegueri and Mrs. Michael Chokio.

Mrs. John Sutton was named delegate and Mrs. Andrew McGinley alternate to the convention of Diocesan Council of Catholic Women to be held Aug. 15 at the Hotel Casey, Scranton.

A number of members also plan to attend the spring meeting of the Monroe-Pike Deanery at St. Matthew's Church, East Stroudsburg, on May 7. The society will receive a Bishop Hannon award. Reservations were made for the weekend retreat at the Villa April 21, 22 and 23.

Mrs. Sutton was asked to prepare a revised constitution with the year beginning Jan. 1 instead of Oct. 1.

Mrs. Orville Deubler and her committee served refreshments from a Spring table to the 22 members present. Mrs. Mary Jane Harding was named as a new member.

THE FLOWER trade began in Britain's Scilly Isles in 1881 when a consignment of blossoms was shipped to London in a woman's hat box. Soon the islands were sending 65 tons of flowers a year to the mainland.

WINDOW and container glass account for nearly 75 percent of the 8 million tons of glass produced annually in the United States.

Israeli Fashions On June 21

Plans for Hadassah's Fashion Show were made yesterday at a luncheon meeting in Wyckoff's Tea Room. The event, which will feature Israeli fashions as well as resort and summer fashions from Wyckoff's will be held at Tamiment on June 21.

Proceeds will be used for Hadassah's work in Israel including maintenance of the new Hadassah Hebrew University Medical Center, education in preventive medicine and community health and vocational education for youth, including the Alice Seligson Vocational High School where the Israeli fashions to be shown were designed and executed.

Discussing plans at the luncheon with Mrs. Madelyn Maloney who will serve as commentator were Mrs. Morris Jacobson and Mrs. Edgar Liebert, co-chairmen, Mrs. Maurice Flesher and Mrs. Howard Popkin, publicity and Mrs. Alex Blaker.

Tickets are now available from Mrs. Al Goldstein, ticket chairman or from any member of Hadassah.

Wayne-Pike Legion Aux. Council Sat.

Newfoundland — Plans for the April 15 Wayne-Pike County Council, American Legion Auxiliary, meeting here were discussed during the meeting of the Unit of Phillips-Zacharias-Phillips Post 859.

Among the speakers at the meeting will be Mrs. William T. McGinnis, Council Pan-Americanism chairman.

During the session of the local unit, Mrs. Robert Rochford, past director of the Wayne-Pike County Council, was presented with a gift from the group.

It was announced that Christine Lanuti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lanuti, has been chosen to attend Keystone Girls State at Shippensburg in June as the representative of the local unit.

The auxiliary received an invitation from their "adopted" boy, Elwood Skillman, at Scotland School, to attend his graduation on June 3.

It was announced that the local unit has achieved quota membership for this year. Mrs. Donald Barnes presented a talk on "Chile."

The next meeting has been changed to May 16 instead of May 2 to avoid conflict with the appearance of the County Chorus. The unit juniors are invited to attend the meeting.

Evelyn Zino does not look old enough to have been with Charles of the Ritz thirteen years. But this is her record... and she has been, in addition, a department store buyer of such merchandise as hosiery, handbags, and related accessories. Her exceedingly youthful appearance is partially due, I am sure, to two things: she loves her work and is enthusiastic about both the company she represents and the people she meets; and she uses faithfully the products she sells. They are miraculous, she will tell you. And she feels there is absolutely no reason in the world why any woman should ever look dowdy, unkempt, or unattractive. "Makeup works wonders," she says, "and every woman owes it to herself and her family to learn its correct application."

The name Charles of the Ritz is actually a household word in the Zino home at Chatham, N.J., because Evelyn's husband is the Mr. Frank in charge of the Charles of the Ritz salon at B. Altman's Short Hills store.

During our conversation in my office the other afternoon, I was surprised to learn that the Charles of the Ritz line covers every phase of beauty care and good grooming, including nail polishes and remover, deodorants, and fragrances. The two perfumes of this famous company are "Ishah," an Indian name meaning woman, and "Directoire." The latter is French, of course, and the fragrance is a delightful blend of flower scents.

"How does one apply perfume so that it will linger?" I wanted to know, and Miss Zino suggested tucking a bit of cotton, dipped in the bath oil of one's choice, into the bra. This oil will not evaporate, as will the alcohol in perfume, and the fragrance will last indefinitely.

Charles of the Ritz also offers two excellent deodorants. Of these, A. P. D. is a colorless liquid; the other is a creamy anti-perspirant. Evelyn told me a simple grooming trick possible with the former: after dressing, she dampens a bit of cotton with the colorless deodorant, and wipes the makeup from her neckline, where the collar touches the skin. It dries instantly, and does a marvelous job of keeping her clothing free from cosmetic stains.

Among the first questions women customers ask are: What shade of powder should I use, and why isn't cold cream all right to use on my face overnight? The powder shade is dictated by the skin color inside one's arm, and Charles of the Ritz offers 13 shades from which a woman's powder may be blended. The powder-filled jars are delightful: some are filled with a glorious lavender called opal; others contain green, and so on. The green removes color; the opal intensifies color, and no two customers require exactly the same blend. That's one reason why Evelyn Zino finds her job ever varying and full of interest.

As for cold cream: that has a wax base and will do absolutely nothing for a woman (beyond makeup removal) however long she leaves it on her face. The proper night care is a lubricant which may be either liquid or cream.

Evelyn is also asked frequently about medication for complexions troubled by acne and similar conditions. Charles of the Ritz has three excellent preparations: One is Velvet Foam, in a tube, which makes an ideal cosmetic for the traveler, customers with problem skin, or the woman who insists she must use soap when washing her face. This "washes" the skin thoroughly and refreshingly, but protects and medicates. Another medicated aid, named by teenagers in a Connecticut High School, is Disaster Cream. Used at night, it helps to correct skin conditions. The third preparation, for girls and women only, is a healing lotion which also serves as a makeup base.

All of these things are carried by Wyckoff's. As a matter of fact, Wyckoff's has every item in the Charles of the Ritz line, and all day today Miss Zino will be in the store to advise the customers and outline a skin care and makeup program for them.

TV Highlights

THE PREMIERE program on CBS' "Summer Sports Spectacular" on Thursday, April 27, will feature top professional and amateur ice skaters from the United States and Canada blending their talents in a tribute to the 18 members of the U. S. figure skating team who died last Feb. 15 in an airliner crash. . . . "Frontier Circus," a new weekly full-hour series starring Chill Wills and John Derek, will be a CBS Fall entry.

"90 miles to Communism," a report on how Cuba is being turned into a Communist state without the knowledge of the majority of the Cuban people, will be the "Closeup" telecast on ABC next Tuesday night. . . . "Maverick" is not on ABC's list of programs that will return in the Fall.

Ronnie Burns and Yvonne Lime portray Chris and Sally on the "Happy" series at 7:30 tonight on ch. 3 and 4, when an argument between a honeymoon couple creates a squabble of their own for Chris and Sally. . . . Walter Cronkite narrates the "You Are There" history documentary at 7:30 p.m. on ch. 11, when a resolution to establish a militia is debated in colonial Virginia by Edmund Pendleton and Patrick Henry.

The "Victory at Sea" episode at 8 p.m. on ch. 11 tells how, after bitter fighting, the Japanese-held island of Guam is recaptured by the United States and turned into one of the biggest supply bases in the Pacific. . . . Martin Milner and George Maharis co-star on "Route 66" at 8:30 p.m. on ch. 6 and 7, when from her deathbed, Ted's Aunt Kitty pleads to see her long-missing daughter, Carol, and the search for the beautiful girl leads Ted and Buzz to the heart of a Los Angeles slum.

Arlene Francis is hostess for an hour-long live-and-taped show, "The Younger Generation," at 9 p.m. on ch. 3 and 4, when the "Bell Telephone Hour" spotlights show-business young folks. . . . Roger Smith, as Jeff Spencer, uses Suzanne (Jacqueline Beer) as bait to track down the prime suspect when a succession of beautiful girls is slain and Lt. Gilmore is pressured to find the slayer on "77 Sunset Strip" at 9 p.m. on ch. 6 and 7.

Robert Taylor stars on "The Detectives" at 10 p.m. on ch. 6 and 7 as Captain Matt Holbrook who takes on Robbie, a canny youngster, in a battle of wits aimed at revealing the whereabouts of his guardian. . . . "Close-Up" at 10:30 p.m. on ch. 6 and 7 presents "I Remember," a dramatic story by Simon Gutter, a former inmate of eight Nazi concentration camps, which tells of what the impending Eichmann trial means to a former prisoner.

Ford Sells Chester Plant To Reynolds

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP)—The Ford Motor Company has sold its disused automobile assembly plant in Chester, Pa., to the Reynolds Metals Company for $2,200,000.

Reynolds will use the plant for fabricating operations. Announcement of the sale, made jointly yesterday by Ford and Reynolds' headquarters in Richmond, Va., made no mention of how soon the plant might be running under the new management nor did it say how large a payroll would be carried.

It was understood, however, that no time would be lost in getting started, and that Reynolds probably would employ up to 300 men at first, and in time perhaps more than the 1,200 employed by Ford. Richard S. Reynolds Jr., president of Reynolds Metals, said: "We are pleased to become a part of the industrial community in Chester. This is our first major plant in Pennsylvania, a state with which I have had close personal relationships for many years. We are fortunate to find a location in which Ford has operated with success for so long."

Dear Abby

Double Punishment

Dear Abby: Our upstairs neighbor has a 12-year-old son who takes piano lessons. She uses "piano practice" as a punishment. The poor kid lost his over-shoes, so she made him stay home all day Saturday and practice the piano for three hours! I can hear "The Blue Danube" in my sleep.

Would it be all right if I, and the neighbor next door to her, told her she should think up another punishment?

THE LADY DOWNSTAIRS
Dear Lady: Tell her, if the boy has any desire to play the piano, the mother couldn't find a better way to destroy it. She has a right to "punish" her son, but not the neighbors.

Dear Abby: I am 17 and I guess you could call me a good girl. I mean I obey my parents, get good grades and have nice friends.

I am corresponding with a boy who is in the Air Force. It is sort of my hobby. I like him very much and he writes interesting letters. He doesn't write "love letters" (but he signs them "Love").

My problem is this: My mother reads his letters while I am gone. I don't lock them up. I keep them in a shoe box in my drawer. If she asked if she could read them, I would let her because there is nothing in his letters I have to be ashamed of. She even asked me if I would please ask this boy to print because his writing is hard for her to read. I think she is wrong to read his letters without asking me first, but how does a respectful daughter tell her mother this?

LETTER WRITER
Dear Letter Writer: In a respectful way.

Dear Abby: Our son (24) is engaged to marry a very beautiful, but mixed up, young lady. She is 20, spoiled and moody, and has already broken two engagements after the wedding invitations were out.

Our son now finds himself in the same predicament as her first two victims. The invitations are out, and the wedding gifts have already started to come in. Now this girl has asked for "more time to think it over." Her parents are no help because while they have money, they have no character and are eager to get their daughter safely married and out of their home. We have talked to our clergyman and he thinks we should call it off. Our son is trying to persuade the girl to go through with it. He is sure he can straighten her out after the marriage. I would like your opinion.

SICK MOM
Dear Mom: Take your clergyman's sound advice and encourage your son to give the young lady all the time she wants to "think it over." A broken en-

"Your grandchildren will grow up under Communism!" 8031 NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV

Will the Soviet threat come true? Will your grandchildren live under Communism? Forget God? Salute the Soviet flag? "Never!" you say. But are you sure? How can you oppose Communism? One sure way is to help RADIO FREE EUROPE.

The voice is that of Nikita Khrushchev. The audience is American. "Your grandchildren will grow up under Communism!" he shouts. Will your children live to see the Free World die? Forget God? Salute the Soviet flag? "Never!" you say. But are you sure? What can you do to oppose Communism? There is one sure way. Help RADIO FREE EUROPE. What does it do? Every day, to 79 million captive people behind the Iron Curtain, it broadcasts news of the outside world. It helps keep these people from turning to Communism. The Poles, Czechs, Bulgarians, Rumanians and Hungarians. It keeps alive their friendship for America. It reaches over 90% of these people, despite Communist jamming. Thousands of letters echo the plea: "God Bless You! Please keep RADIO FREE EUROPE on the air!" These people are the buffers between Russia and the Free World.

They pose a major obstacle to the Russians starting any war. And RADIO FREE EUROPE is their strongest link with the Free World. But RADIO FREE EUROPE depends on individual Americans for its existence. How about it? Will you help? . . . Give a dollar? . . . Give five dollars? . . . or more? Surely your heart tells you to give something so that our children—and all children—shall live in freedom throughout the world.

Rookie Duffalo Stars As Giants Stop Bucs 6-5

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Rookie reliever Jim Duffalo pitched and batted the San Francisco Giants to a 6-5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates in 12 innings of a see-saw baseball game Thursday.

The Giants came from behind three times in the 3-hour, 38-minute game and finally won it after Duffalo led off the 12th with a double into the right field corner.

Flown From Florida

Wood Memorial May Hold Carry Back's Derby Fate

By JOHN CHANDLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Carry Back, who beat everything in Florida to emerge the favorite for the Kentucky Derby, still is a big question mark for the 3-year-old horse racing classic at Louisville, his trainer said Thursday.

The Florida-bred colt was flown from sunny Miami to cold, rain-swept New York late Wednesday.

His next objective is the $75,000-added Wood Memorial at Aqueduct April 22, two weeks before the derby at Churchill Downs.

"Whether we go to Louisville for the derby all depends on how he comes out of the Wood, and he doesn't have to win that race either," said trainer Jack Price.

Fine Shape

"In other words, he can win the Wood and still not run in the derby, and he can lose here—ever finish last—and go to Kentucky. Right now, I feel he was never in better shape. He has raced six times this year, and has come back after each one better than he went into it."

The 1½-mile Wood is the final major Eastern test for the derby, and Carry Back will be meeting some new opposition.

Has Handicap 3.261

Colonial Mixed 5 Wins Monroe Team Pin Crown

COLONIAL MIXED posted a handicapped 3.261 match, to win the Monroe County Bowling Assn. team championship recently.

Three Ring Pete was second, with a 3.233 total and Giant Market, Drackett and DeRenzi & Son tied for third, each posting a 3.208.

Schaefer Beer teams finished first and second in the three game scratch category. Schaefer (Classic League) was first, hitting a 2,856 triple and the Commercial "B" Schaefer representative earned second place with a one pin nod over Beckers' Diner.

High Single

A 989 single game earned Ballantines the high scratch single title, with Swisher's Rheingold second and Square Bar third.

Penn Dell Dairy won the high handicap single game, with a 1,114 and Stroudsburg Garage was second, eight pins back.

Prizes will be distributed about two weeks after the close of the singles and doubles competition. The date and place will be announced later.

New Bribe Offer Made

NEW YORK (AP)—Aaron Wagman, one of two gambling figures arrested on charges of bribing basketball players, was indicted Thursday on three counts accusing him of trying to bribe a detective.

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said the indictment was limited to accusations that Wagman sought to bribe one of his men. However, the grand jury still is investigating charges that Wagman and another man bribed basketball players.

Specifically, Wagman, 38, of New York, is charged with trying to bribe Detective David F. Campbell in return for information about the district attorney's investigation into basketball bribery.

Derby Horses In California

ALBANY, Calif. (AP)—Seven 3-year-olds, including six eligible for the Kentucky Derby, will race at Golden Gate Fields Saturday in the historic California Derby.

If all seven go, the gross purse reaches $60,100 with $37,000 to the winner.

Alberta Ranches' Flutterby is the almost certain favorite carrying 119 pounds for the 1½-mile test with Johnny Longden in the irons.

Under the allowance conditions, the other entries will carry 116 pounds. Larry Gilligan will ride the Kerr Stables' Gay Landing and Bobby Mundorf is aboard stablemate Mr. Consistency.

Others expected to start are millionaire C. V. Whitney's Songman, winner over Flutterby at a neck in the one-mile California Derby.

The California Derby was inaugurated in 1872.

Braves Top Cards 3-2 In 11 Frames

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves ended an 11-inning struggle by pushing across a run as St. Louis relief specialist Lindy McDaniel walked Mel Roach with the bases loaded Thursday for a 3-2 marathon victory.

McDaniel walked Roach on a 3-2 count to force home Frank Bolling with the decisive run.

Opens With Hit

Bolling led off the 11th with a single and moved to third as Joe Adcock singled. McDaniel then hit Roy McMillan with a pitch to fill the bases.

The victory with a brilliant relief performance, Morehead came in with St. Louis runners on first and third and one out in the 10th and retired five straight batters.

Sifford Has 68 At Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Charlie Sifford, Negro professional from Los Angeles, cracked golf's Deep South color line Thursday by using 68 strokes to take the first-round lead in the $22,500 Greater Greensboro Open Tournament.

The 38-year-old Charlotte, N.C., native, marked the first appearance of a member of his race in a major PGA event in the South by putting together a pair of 34s in a three-under-par performance that gave him a one-shot lead over Billy Maxwell of Dallas, Tex.

Greens Finesse

Sifford, noted more for his booming tee shots, used finesse around the greens to take the lead. He had 12 one-putt greens and needed 24 putts in all.

Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., missed a chance to tie Sifford when he took a double bogey six on No. 17 and finished with 70 to the Greensboro amateur Bill Harvey for third place.

Six men tied at par 71 in the field of 115 who tested the 7,000-yard Sedgefield Country Club course.

Heading the 71 group was Sam Snead, the defending champion and seven-time GGO winner from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Racing Head Favors No Sub-Leasing

HANOVER, Pa. (AP)—Lawrence B. Sheppard, chairman of the Pennsylvania Harness Racing Commission, said Thursday he favors a law prohibiting the sub-leasing of harness tracks.

Rep. George C. Magee, Jr., R-Crawford, introduced such a bill in Harrisburg Wednesday.

Sheppard said also that he will refuse to sign a license granted to Liberty Bell Park in Philadelphia until a court rules on the legality of the commission's decision. The commission voted 2-1 to grant the license, with Sheppard the dissenter.

The Bucks County Racing Association, headed by Daniel C. Prish, Allegheny County contractor, and Arthur Rooney, owner of the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League, want to lease the Liberty Bell track for 50 days of racing.

James P. Clark, Philadelphia trucking company executive and finance chairman of the city Democratic committee, heads Liberty Bell.

Welter King Seeks Ortega

NEW YORK (AP)—The deal for welterweight champion Emilio Griffith's defense against Mexico's Gaspar Ortega May 27 probably will be closed by Friday, according to Teddy Brenner, matchmaker for Madison Square Garden.

"George Parnassus is flying in tonight to complete the negotiations," said Brenner Thursday.

Parnassus, Los Angeles promoter, plans to stage the fight either in Los Angeles or Tijuana.

Almost All-Veteran Team To Open Warriors Season With Twin-Bill

CHARLIE REESE, new East Stroudsburg State College baseball coach, gets a double chance Saturday to see what kind of club his 1961 Warriors will be.

East Stroudsburg hosts Millersville in a 1:30 double-header, with Tom Barrow and Leroy Smith getting the pitching assignments.

Reese will have a veteran in every position except third base, when the season opens and a good bench to back up his starters.

Reese is filling in for George Ockershausen, who is on Sabbathical. Ockershausen is expected to take over the baseball post when he returns next year.

Lost One Pitcher
The Warriors lost only one pitcher through graduation, John Brunner. However, Brunner was used mainly as an outfield and pinch-hitter after the staff, which is not unusual, since he is also the Warriors' football quarterback and an excellent passer.

Slemmer with a little more work, could be the Warriors' number four man.

In the infield Reese has veteran Al Stockholm or Carmen Pantuso for work at first.

Rick Carroll will probably start at second in the opening game Saturday with John Ferguson working there in the nightcap. The starting assignment for future games could be decided by Saturday's action.

Rider At Short
Tom Rider, who led the club in hitting last season is a fixture at short. Rider rapped three hits in the club's final intra-squad game Saturday and narrowly missed another extra-base hit when his blast past first base was ruled foul. Jim Wilde backs Rider at short.

Charlie Christner, a newcomer, is at third. Brian Garland and Fred Schneek are the utility infielders.

Reese is carrying four catchers, Sam Barbose, Ron Hoyda, Bob Reichenbach and Reiney Summerfield. Reichenbach gets the nod Saturday.

Outfield Veterans
In the outfield, the Warriors will open with Walt Snyder in left, Barry Wray in center and Joe Bean in right. It is the same group that performed for last year's team.

The reserve outfielders are Ed Kroll, Lou Pachcholo and Bob Mohler.

Last year's squad had a 10-3 mark and this year's team has a strong chance of meeting or topping that record.

Red Wings Claim Hawks' Ice Soft

By JOE MOOSHLIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—The "win-at-home" Stanley Cup series which finds the Chicago Black Hawks and Detroit Red Wings tied at two games each has turned into an argument of slow ice versus fast ice.

Detroit's Red Wings, who won just one in Chicago all year, insist the Hawks are tampering with the ice in the Chicago Stadium where the two teams resume the best-of-seven series Friday night.

Not so, say the Hawks.

Following both of Detroit's playoff losses in Chicago, Red Wing Coach Sid Abel criticized ice conditions, intimating the Hawks—a heavier team than Detroit—are keeping their ice soft and slow to gain an advantage.

The ice in the stadium has been soft and slow but the Hawks claim they can't help it.

First of all, an ice show is appearing at the stadium and every time the hockey teams come in to play fresh ice has to be put in and there isn't enough time to let it harden.

John Gottselig, former Hawk star who now is the team's public relations director, says the bigger crowds in the stadium have a lot to do with it. Says Gottselig:

"We pack from three to four thousand more people in the stadium than they do in Detroit. It becomes warmer, there's more humidity and because of cigarette smoke, haze and dust settle on the ice and softness occurs on top of the ice."

Because of the apparent home ice advantage, the Hawks remain favorites to win the series since four games will be played in Chicago should it go the limit of seven games.

After Friday night, the two teams go to Detroit for game No. 6 Sunday and, if necessary, return to Chicago for the finale Tuesday night.

Reds Win On Lynch's Late Blast

CINCINNATI (AP)—Jerry Lynch, who specializes in pinch hits, came up with a home run in the last of the eighth Thursday that drove in three runs and brought the Cincinnati Reds a 5-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The left-handed swinging Lynch was batting for second baseman Jim Baumer and walloped his homer off southpaw Jim Brewer who had been rushed in to relieve Joe Schaffernoth.

The Reds wasted a lot of hits off starter Dick Ellsworth and Schaffernoth before getting their game-winning runs. They had only two runs on their first dozen hits.

Chicago's Ellsworth pitched 5 2/3 innings, allowing three runs and two hits. He struck out four batters.

Cincinnati's Lynch pitched 4 1/3 innings, allowing two runs and three hits. He struck out three batters.

The Reds' lineup was: 1. Lynch, 2. Baumer, 3. Brewer, 4. Schaffernoth, 5. Ellsworth, 6. B. F. Ponder, 7. Billings, 8. B. F. Ponder, 9. B. F. Ponder.

The Cubs' lineup was: 1. B. F. Ponder, 2. B. F. Ponder, 3. B. F. Ponder, 4. B. F. Ponder, 5. B. F. Ponder, 6. B. F. Ponder, 7. B. F. Ponder, 8. B. F. Ponder, 9. B. F. Ponder.

The game was played at Cincinnati's Crosley Field. Attendance was 12,345.

Commissions An Expense

By William A. Doyle
Q. When I buy stocks or mutual fund shares, I pay a commission. Can I deduct that commission as an expense on my Federal income tax return for the year in which I make the purchase? Or, am I supposed to wait and deduct both the buying and selling commissions as expenses for the year in which I sell the stock later on?

A. You don't report commission costs as expenses. Buying commissions are added to your cost. Selling commissions are deducted from your proceeds.

For instance, suppose you buy 100 shares of stock at $20 a share, in a transaction on the New York Stock Exchange. Your total cost would be $2,027. That's 100 times $20, plus $27 commission.

Let's say you sell the stock later on (again on a New York Stock Exchange transaction) at $25 a share. You would receive net proceeds of $2,463.45. That's 100 times $25—less $31.50 commission, $4 New York State transfer tax, $1 Federal transfer tax and five cents Securities & Exchange Commission fee.

Your profit would be $436.45—your net proceeds minus your total cost. You report that profit as a capital gain for the year in which you sold the stock.

You use this system with mutual fund shares or any other securities. Don't be confused because the commission on the purchase of shares of most mutual funds is usually listed as a percentage of your total cost.

The confirmation statement you receive every time you buy any securities shows your total cost. The confirmation statement you receive when you sell (redeem in the case of mutual fund shares) shows your net proceeds.

Q. I own stock in a small insurance company. Until recently the company hasn't done at all good as far as profits, etc., are concerned. This week the president of the company sent out letters to all stockholders explaining that the company has enjoyed growth this year.

The newspapers quoted the price of this stock at over 70 cents a share late last year, when the company wasn't doing well. Now the newspapers quote the stock at 65 cents a share. What's wrong with you newspaper people? Please keep up your knowledge and quote stocks at prices which reflect their growth and true values.

A. Easy, now. You have a lot to learn. And, with a low-priced thing such as this stock, you may get your education the hard way.

Newspapers don't set the price of stocks. We only report them. When a stock is traded in the open market, as this one evidently is, the market price is determined by either auction or negotiation between buyers and sellers. It's the old principle of supply and demand.

That "growth" the company's president talks about may result in the stock selling at a higher price in the future. But, if it's quoted at 65 cents a share in newspapers now, that's all it's selling for right now.

Brace yourself for the harsh fact that the stock's market price might fall even lower. That president's talk about growth is no guarantee that the stock's market price will rise.

Lt. Willhoite Assigned To Connally AFB, Texas

SECOND Lieutenant John A. Willhoite, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Willhoite of 1020 King Street in Stroudsburg, has been assigned to James Connally AFB, Tex. for undergraduate navigator training.

A 1960 graduate of East Stroudsburg State College, Lt. Willhoite received his commission in the Air Force upon completion of Officer Candidate School at Lackland AFB, Texas.

Students in the navigator program receive basic, radar and celestial navigation training in the T-29 aircraft, the Air Force's "flying classroom."

After their 35-week training period at James Connally AFB, the officers are assigned to Air Force installations throughout the world, serving with Strategic Air Command or Military Air Transport Service units.

James Connally AFB is part of Air Training Command, which trains personnel for America's expanding aerospace force of aircraft and missiles.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FRIDAY, APRIL 14, 1961

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Self-restraint and sensibly conservative action urged today. Some tricky spots. You will need alertness and wise judgment to make proper decisions and to choose best tempo for action.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Friendly, happy indications for private interests and business, too. Don't discount at opposition. Remember your file folders and the billiard where they can serve you best.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—Not highly stimulating but favorable rays linger since yesterday's benefic Mercury position. Do well with the advantages and helpful suggestions you have. Don't worry, don't be shy.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Mild day, not hindering nor stimulating. Should be flexible, yield fine returns for clever, knowledgeable management. Be interested in the new and valuable in all lines, endeavors.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Careful but to overlook your aims or ability to gather earnings and profits. Keep to a sensible course and right tempo, avoid unpleasant arguments and you will like day's returns.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Not wholly auspicious but it is friendly and will respond generously to earnest effort without strain or haste. Artistic professions, decorating the home, office all favored. Care in signing papers.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—This can be "your" day without fuss or show. Family affairs, wholesome amusements, dealing with the opposite sex and handling foods, cooking, etc., among the highly sponsored.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—Your Mars restraining in tendency today. Will be well to think quietly before you speak or act. Softness of nature at times is very effective; today harshness is taboo. Be your competent self.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius)—Aspects inactive generally. Love lives in A. M. and up to Sunset when day may diminish to become less placid. This letdown period only temporary. Be quick for change for better.

December 24 to January 20 (Capricorn)—Day leans toward brighter, bigger aspects. Tackle your duties with decision, faith; don't temporize with wrongdoing. Do your best and more now, for this day will not pass this way again.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)—A brisk tempo all day, but you feel equal to A. M. and up to Sunset when day may diminish to become less placid. This letdown period only temporary. Be quick for change for better.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—And a big, cheery day for your endeavors and for accomplishing in new and familiar activities. Join those who think, plan and get out and work for success. Many elements in your favor.

YOU BORN TODAY: Have enterprise, initiative, great capacity and talents, varied and progressive. Under your sign are many excellent leaders, engineers, architects, manufacturers, inventors, dealer in hardware, lumber, etc. You make fine barbers, dentists, surgeons. No limit to the success that can be yours if you curtail tendency to arrogance, impudence and wanting your way to exclusion of others' rightful wishes. Don't permit your good-given assets to be overrun by failings that can be corrected. You have leadership qualities and can be successful as Army, Naval and other Armed Forces officers. Remember to take orders as well as give them. Birthdate of: Many noted writers, inventors, business leaders; Jas. Branch Cabell, Amer. novelist.
